SUBJECT: Inventory of Non-Expendable Property

TO: Office, Branch, and Division Chiefs, Headquarters, CIG,
Washington, D. C.

1. As of 1 November 1946 a complete physical inventory of all non-expendable supplies and equipment on hand and in use at all offices, branches, divisions, and other operating installations under the jurisdiction of this Agency will be taken. The purpose of this inventory is twofold:

(1) To effect the transfer of accountability for all property now in the possession of the Strategic Services Unit from the War Department to the Central Intelligence Group;

(2) To establish property accountability at all installations within this Agency in accordance with an Administrative Order to be issued pertaining to the accounting for public property within the Central Intelligence Group.

2. Normally, accountability will be established at the branch level; however, this is not mandatory. The organizational structure of the office, and its subordinate units (branches, divisions, etc.), should be the primary factor in the determination of the accountability level.

3. After the accountability level has been established, office, branch, and/or division chiefs will take immediate action to effect the appointment of an accountable officer for their respective units. The name and office extension of the individual designated as the accountable officer will be forwarded to the Chief, Property Control Section, Room 235 South Building, or or before 25 October 1946. The accountable officer

TO :

FROM :

1. The basic principles laid down in the attached memorandum are concurred in.

2. However, the terms used in paragraph 2, i.e.: office and branch are ambiguous to the people who will be charged with performing the inventory.

3. I do not believe it practical for the Director, Office of Special Operations to designate one Supply & Property Officer for the entire OSO, or if he did it would be, in my opinion a full-time job. PSD is not set-up at present to perform any such function.

4. It is therefore recommended that a Property & Supply Officer be designated for each of the following by the Executive for Administration, OSO.

- a) Administration Building (at present Colonel Pruden)
- b) Each Foreign Branch
- c) Registry
- d) Dissemination Branch
- e) Special Projects Branch
- f) ADO
- g) Office of Chief "A" Deputy

5. At such time as organization is stabilized then perhaps one person could take over the Property & Supply job for OSO.
